

Advantages of growing up with Dogs

How dogs can help children with ADHD

Growing up with dogs has been shown to have many health benefits for children with ADHD and ADD.

Here are some of the benefits which have been reported:

- Dogs need routine and consistency and this helps the child too
- Provides an outlet for excess energy
- Dogs have been proved to help depression
- They can take the stress away from new situations

